

HARDING CABINET WE'LL BE NAMED IN TWO WEEKS

President-Elect Promises Organization Best Fitted to Serve Country.

CITES DIFFICULTIES
Believes in Partisan Government, but His Aids Must Be Qualified.

OFF TO FLORIDA TO-DAY
No Significance, He Says, in Rumors of Movement
Against Hughes.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
MARION, Ohio, Jan. 19.—In a chat with newspaper men to-day President-elect Harding told something of the difficulties he has had to encounter: of the pressure that has been brought to bear upon him to make Cabinet appointments that would be of a purely political character.

He will make none without full consideration of the more essential qualifications of each individual. He has been driven, importuned and urged by all the tactics known to the political game but has successfully withstood the assaults of the men who may have axes to grind. He will leave here to-morrow night with his mind pretty well made up concerning the chief places in his Cabinet. But there will be no announcement of the slate before, perhaps, February 1.

Mr. Harding will have a thoroughly representative Republican Cabinet. It will be a party Cabinet and his administration will be a party administration.
But no Republican will be chosen for any office in that administration for the sole reason that he is a Republican.
He must needs first qualify and measure up to the Harding standard of service.
Moreover, Mr. Harding's Cabinet, when it is announced, will be his own Cabinet. It will be his selection of the best men available, as he has been able to judge their qualifications during the series of conferences he has been conducting here. But no member thereof will have been foisted upon them. From the beginning Mr. Harding has had in his mind's eye the sort of a Cabinet he wants, and outside pressure notwithstanding, his appointments are going to conform to his original ideas.

Will Await Complete Selection.
When he was asked if he would have any official announcement of his Cabinet selections before leaving for Florida Mr. Harding hesitated a moment, then said:

"I had thought originally to name two or three places of the Cabinet in advance to permit the men named to take up informally the work that is to be done. But I have found it so difficult to fit in an administrative organization that I am not disposed to make definite tenders and have men accept until I myself have made up a complete organization."

"There is no semblance of any marked drive either for or against, either in support of or in opposition to, any individual. There is the natural current of both political and personal recommendations and the natural cross currents of personal, individual and factional opposition. It is all normal and doesn't keep me awake nights."

"I am thinking all the time of getting an organization best fitted to serve this country. I am a partisan. I believe in party government. I am going to have a Republican Cabinet, but no selection will be made because of party obligation without consideration for the best service of the country."

Discusses Specific Rumors.

Reports reaching here from Washington have told of the inception of a movement against Charles E. Hughes as Secretary of State. They were to the effect that an effort would be made to have Mr. Harding reconsider this appointment and induce Elihu Root to accept the place. When asked if his reference to "cross currents of opposition" indicated a knowledge of such a move, Mr. Harding replied that no significance should be attached to these reports, and that they merely were samples of the difficulties he has encountered in his consideration of every Cabinet place.

When he had finished his statement
Mr. Harding turned to one of the newspaper men present and asked if he had been responsible for an "authoritative" announcement published in a Cincinnati newspaper that Will H. Hays was to be Postmaster General.

"I'd like to know where that 'authoritative' announcement came from. It's news to me," he said with a laugh.

In delaying announcement of the places he has decided upon and the names of the men who are to fill them Mr. Harding is carrying out the intention he had a week ago. Experience has shown him that an announcement of two or three members of his Cabinet would multiply immeasurably the difficulties that confront him in a determination of men for the remaining places. Increased pressure on behalf of some candidates would follow, he believes as surely as the cross currents of opposition would swell.

HARDING'S INAUGURAL TO BE LIKE LINCOLN'S

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A photograph of the inauguration of Lincoln was used as a guide to-day by the Joint Congressional Committee in the formal adoption of plans for the inauguration of President-elect Harding. Chairman Knox said that in simplicity the arrangements for the ceremony March 4 would almost duplicate those in 1861.

President-elect Harding's views on the subject were given to the committee by Elliott Woods, superintendent of the Capitol, who went to Marion, Ohio, several days ago to discuss the matter with Mr. Harding. After hearing from Mr. Woods the committee decided that the small stand to be built at the top of the steps on the east portico would be made large enough to accommodate the President-elect, Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court, who will administer the oath; the Congressional inaugural committee and a few other officials.

All spectators, at the Capitol, except the official party and possibly a few working newspaper men, will stand during the Harding ceremony, under present plans, but sections of the portico and
several days ago to discuss the matter
with Mr. Harding. After hearing from
Mr. Woods the committee decided that the small stand to be built at the top of
the steps on the east portico would be made large enough to accommodate the President-elect, Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court, who will administer
the oath; the Congressional inaugural
committee and a few other officials.

Would Pay Indemnity to a French Citizen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Payment of $13,511 to the Government of France would be authorized in a bill reported today by the House Foreign Affairs committee.

The money would be transferred to Mme. Crignier, a French subject, for losses sustained during the search of her property several years ago for the body of John Paul Jones.

CARNEGIE MEDALS AWARDED 26 HEROES

Commission Pensions Dependents of Four Who Died Saving Others.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—New York and New England cases predominated to-day at the seventeenth annual meeting of the Carnegie Hero Commission, when twenty-six acts of heroism were recognized. One silver medal and twenty-five bronze medals were awarded. Nine of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of four of these pensions amounting to $3,420 a year were granted; to the dependents of four of the others who lost their lives $3,250 was granted, to be applied as the Commission may sanction. In addition to these money grants, in eleven cases awards aggregating $17,600 were appropriated for educational purposes, while in six other cases awards aggregating $5,500 were made for other worthy purposes. The cases referred to above were as follows:

Samuel Strauber, deceased, 1,582 Madison avenue, New York City, bronze medal to the father. Strauber was 17 years old, a garment cutter, when he died attempting to save Helen Gottfried, 14, from drowning at Coney Island, July 2, 1919.

Wallace R. Brewster, deceased, bronze medal to the mother, Canastota, N. Y.
He was 15 years old, a student, when he received fatal injuries in attempting to save John E. and Carl F. Robinson, 8 and 11, respectively, from a runaway at Canastota, June 28, 1919.

Stanislaw Kristoff, deceased, bronze medal to the father, box 338, Bridgehampton, L. I. Kristoff was a schoolboy, 13 years old, when he died attempting to save Charles Dankowski, 8, from drowning at Sagaponack, N. Y., August 14, 1920.

Howard E. Shepard, Montour Falls, N. Y., bronze medal. He was a student, 17 years old, when he saved Bertram F.
Schwer, 15, a student, from drowning in Bloomville, N. Y., June 2, 1918.

Frederick F. Reynolds, 148 Main street, Danville, N. Y., bronze medal. He was a twenty-two-year-old shoe cutter when he saved Archie C. Mann, 25, a mechanic, from suffocation at Danville, June 10, 1917. Mann was overcome by fumes in a gasoline tank eight feet underground.

John C. Giles, 209 Bolling Springs avenue, East Rutherford, N. J., bronze medal. He was a clerk, 35 years old, when he saved Henry J. Dreher, 4, from being killed by a train at Rutherford, October 19, 1918.

Henry C. Bell, Jr., 487 Main street, Portland, Conn., bronze medal. He was a schoolboy, 12 years old, when he saved N. Bernice Tryon, 12, from drowning at Portland, August 13, 1918.

Discusses Specific Rumors.

Reports reaching here from Washington have told of the inception of a movement against Charles E. Hughes
as Secretary of State. They were to
the effect that an effort would be made
to have Mr. Harding reconsider this
appointment and induce Elihu Root to accept the place. When asked if his
reference to "cross currents of opposition" indicated a knowledge of such a move, Mr. Harding replied that no
significance should be attached to these
reports, and that they merely were
samples of the difficulties he has encountered in his consideration of every Cabinet place.

When he had finished his statement
Mr. Harding turned to one of the newspaper men present and asked if he had
been responsible for an "authoritative"
announcement published in a Cincinnati
newspaper that Will H. Hays was to be Postmaster General.

"I'd like to know where that 'authoritative' announcement came from. It's
news to me," he said with a laugh.

In delaying announcement of the
places he has decided upon and the names of the men who are to fill them
Mr. Harding is carrying out the intention he had a week ago. Experience
has shown him that an announcement
of two or three members of his Cabinet
would multiply immeasurably the difficulties that confront him in a determination of men for the remaining
places. Increased pressure on behalf
of some candidates would follow, he
believes as surely as the cross currents of opposition would swell.

HARDING'S INAUGURAL TO BE LIKE LINCOLN'S

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A photograph
of the inauguration of Lincoln was used as a guide to-day by the Joint Congressional Committee in the formal adoption of plans for the inauguration of President-elect Harding. Chairman Knox said that in simplicity the arrangements for
the ceremony March 4 would almost
duplicate those in 1861.

President-elect Harding's views on the subject were given to the committee by Elliott Woods, superintendent of the Capitol, who went to Marion, Ohio,
several days ago to discuss the matter
with Mr. Harding. After hearing from
Mr. Woods the committee decided that the small stand to be built at the top of
the steps on the east portico would be made large enough to accommodate the President-elect, Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court, who will administer
the oath; the Congressional inaugural
committee and a few other officials.

All spectators, at the Capitol, except
the official party and possibly a few
working newspaper men, will stand during the Harding ceremony, under present plans, but sections of the portico and
several days ago to discuss the matter
with Mr. Harding. After hearing from
Mr. Woods the committee decided that the small stand to be built at the top of
the steps on the east portico would be made large enough to accommodate the President-elect, Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court, who will administer
the oath; the Congressional inaugural
committee and a few other officials.

HOUSE VOTE KEEPS MEMBERSHIP AT 435

Heavy Majority Against Plan of Increase Proportionate to New Population.

11 STATES ARE REDUCED

California Gains Three in Reapportionment Based on 1920 Census.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.

For the second time in its history the House to-day voted against the usual decennial increase in its membership. By the unexpected majority of 267 to 78 it voted to keep the present figure of 435 during the next ten years, despite the fact that the 1920 census, on which the reapportionment of State representation will be based, shows an increase of approximately 14 per cent in population in the last decade.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where it is expected to pass also without amendment, in accordance with the usual Senate policy of allowing the House to determine its own membership every ten years. Usually the House, heeding the pleas of States where population has not increased as much in a decade as those of others, boosts the membership so the representation of no State would be reduced. Once before, in 1840, the membership was decreased from that of the previous decade, but ever since it has gone up with big leaps, the last increase being forty-five members.

The reapportionment provided in the bill, as passed by the House to-day, would not go into effect until March 4, 1923. Under it eleven States would lose members and eight States gain. The basis is raised from one representative for every 211,000 people, as at present, to one for every 242,267.

Eleven States Lose Members.

Increased representation would be given to these States: California, 3; Michigan, 2; Ohio, 2; Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington, 1 each.

Twelve members would be taken from the following States: Missouri, 2; Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louiisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska,

Rhode Island and Vermont, 1 each.

A belief among the present membership of the House that it already is too large and cumbersome for efficient work was largely responsible for the action today. All leaders of both parties except Champ Clark were against any increased membership, but this has been the case often before when the rank and file has voted for additional members.
The House Census Committee also had reported a bill increasing the membership to 453, and the action had been approved by a Republican caucus. These factors caused the vote to come as a big surprise, it being apparent that many Representatives were induced to change their views within the last week. The opposition came almost entirely from the States whose representation was reduced.

Before the final vote the House rejected amendment of Representative Sweet (Iowa) to fix the membership at 460 and Representative Jones (Texas), who sought to reduce it to 307. The amendment to the committee plan of 453 members was offered by Representative Harbour (Cal.).

Harvard Revision Rejected.

Little debate was allowed on the amendments, but those favoring the big increase made a last minute attempt to show that figures submitted by the Census Bureau for any size House from 435 to 483 were incorrect. A letter was read from Prof. Huntington of the Harvard Engineering School claiming that under the Census Bureau's calculations the representation of at least three States was too small and that a new method of such computations had been discovered by the experts at Harvard. Apparently the House thought it was all a matter of dividing a State's population by 242,267 to obtain the number of Representatives it should be entitled to, and failed to see why any new method was necessary. The details of the method were not disclosed.

The House was in confusion during the voting and to many in the galleries presented a living picture of why additional members should not be added.
Representative Tinkham (Mass.) sought to reduce representation of those Southern States which by some means deny right of suffrage to negroes, but this was ruled out of order.

CIRCUIT MINISTER TO JAIL.

Wine and Women Led Him to Steal an Automobile.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 19.—Bryant Allen Norris, who testified that he had expounded the Gospel in North Carolina for six years as a circuit minister, was sentenced to-day to five years imprisonment for theft of an automobile.

He was twice extradited from San Francisco on similar charges, and told the court he attributed his fall from grace to wine and women.

SALE TO-NIGHT AND TO-MORROW NIGHT AT THE ANDERSON GALLERIES RARE AND CHOICE BOOKS FROM THE STOCK OF THE LATE
GEORGE D. SMITH
TO BE SOLD BY ORDER OF HIS ESTATE
CATALOGUES FREE SALES CONDUCTED BY MR. F. A. CHAPMAN

The Sort of Spring
Suit You'll Wear—

HAVE you ordered it yet? Or only planned it? Already spring suits—the kind you'll be wearing—are very much in evidence. At Palm Beach, on the Riviera—in this number of Vogue.
And the new materials are the most evident things about them.

Perhaps you planned for a blue serge.
But a blue serge with yellow stripes woven into the material? Or did you decide on a black and white check? But had you thought of using stripes of brown wool embroidery on it? Like the suit of checked Rodier fabric shown in the sketch?
And you certainly hadn't considered a cashmere in the shawl patterns of your grandmother. How could you unless you'd seen this new number of Vogue?

Spring Fabrics
and Original Designs
Number of

VOGUE

Dated February 1st

Your spring frocks are going to be simple, you know that. As simple as the three Vionnet models shown in this number.
But the simpler your lines, the more sophisticated your materials, says Paris.
And you can see in this number what a brilliant spring the Rodier fabrics, both cotton and wool, have set up on their looms. Vogue shows some new materials in the pattern pages of this number, together with original designs—sixty-three of them in all, and every one of them brings a new phase of the spring mode within your reach for your own costumes.

Then there's a page of sports clothes for snow-drifts and one for orange groves.
And eight distinguished mid-season models from Paris. And the New York shops show two pages of imported models which feature the high straight Florentine neckline combined with simplicity and crepe marocain. Plan, shop and order, but—buy the new Vogue first!

At All News Stands! Now!

CONDÉ NAST, Publisher

EDNA WOOLMAN CHASE, Editor

REYNOLDS CAMPBELL, Art Director

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway at Ninth, New York Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co. Telephone Stuyvesant 4700 Store hours 9 to 5

You Have Got to Keep in Touch with Your Affairs

A celebrated performer upon the piano who was devoted to the instrument he liked best used to say:

"If I quit practicing one day I notice it, if I quit two days my friends notice it and if I quit practicing three days the public notices it."

He said that only by perpetual attention and practice he was able to preserve the ease and delicacy of his touch.

It is just like this with every profession or trade or calling one must be trim and ready by constant devotion to his affairs.

A big plunge and a full-page advertisement with blowing of horns is not sufficient.

The daily details are the real things.

[Signed]

John Wanamaker
Jan. 20, 1921.

The Wanamaker GOLF Studio is now open

Its unrivaled facilities for the demonstration of the fundamental features of golf are at the disposal of all who wish to better their game—men, women and the younger generation.

WALTER STODDART
Mt. Kisco Golf Club
FRANK McNAMARA
Cherry Valley Country Club

$2 a lesson

Appointment may be made by telephoning the GOLF SEC-RETARY, Stuyvesant 4700; Extension 222.

It will be wise to arrange NOW for instruction to be given later on.

Fourth Gallery, New Bldg.

Good News to Read of on a Cold Morning Is this News of Fur Lined Overcoats for Men At $78, $115, $145, $285

14 Muskrat Lined Overcoats, $285 Beaver and otter collars; original prices $575 and $695.

Marmot Lined, $145; Wallaby Lined, $115 14 beaver and otter collars; originally $275 to $325.

Lambskin Lined, $115; Dogskin Lined, $78 5 lambskin lined, beaver or otter collars; originally $295; 5 dogskin lined, raccoon collars; originally $165; 15 dogskin lined, Astrican collars; originally $145.

41 Half Lined Overcoats, now $105

16 half lined with wallaby, with beaver or otter collars, originally $275; 17 half lined with lambskin, beaver or opossum collars, originally $265; 8 half lined with marmot, with beaver or otter collars, originally $295.

And Half Ulsters for $35

Big, warm ulsters, $75 to $90 grades, in the popular double-breasted style; two models; all have patch pockets and half belt, with satin yoke and sleeves. One of the models also has muff pockets.

Several hundred of these fine ulsters in all sizes and a wide enough variety of coloring to suit practically all tastes.

English Ulsters and Over- coats Too Only $43 to $59

Our $75 to $125 grades, based upon cost. We are advised that the above prices—$43 to $59—are actually less than the makers themselves could offer to us for next season. In the collection available today is a wide assortment, including that combination and quality of material and uncommon colorings for which English makers of overcoats are noted.

Burlington Arcade Floor, New Building.

Men's Capeskin Gloves at close to half usual price

A special purchase of 1440 pairs of men's 1-clasp capeskin gloves, out-seam sewn, spear point embroidery, in tan and brown shades.

$2.35 pair—all sizes.

Burlington Arcade Floor,
New Building.

Blanket Sale

Yes, in spite of the big demand brought out by the cold weather

$18 blankets, 60 x 84 in.—for $12 pair $23.50 blankets, 70 x 84 in.—for $15.65 pair $32 blankets, 80 x 90 in.—for $24 pair

Extra fine quality of wool in the filling; cotton warp; border stripes of various colors. Bound with silk.

$30 scarlet blankets, 72 x 90 in.—$20 each

These are imported blankets, pure wool warp and filling, weighing 5½ lbs. each; black borders, narrow green silk binding.
Finest blankets of their kind.

27 pairs blankets at half price Pure wool warp and filling, white or with pink or blue borders.
$30 pair for the $60 blankets, 60x90 in., all white.
$33 pair for the $66 blankets, 80x90 in., all white.
$18.75 pair for the $37.50 blankets, 72x90 in., colored borders.

Fourth Gallery, New Building.

ORIENTAL RUGS

Rare opportunity for exercise of Thrift Prices are half and less in January Sale

500 Hearth size rugs, $32.50 up Hearth sizes range from 3x5½ ft. to 5x8 ft. The rug at $32.50 is a Mosoul, 5.5x3.2 ft., which was earlier $65. In this group—all at half price—are Sarouks, Kermanshahs, Daghestans, Kazaks, Tabrez, Fereghans, Cabistans, Bokharas.

10 Chinese mats, 2½x1½ ft. .... at $9 10 Chinese rugs, 4x2 ft. .... at $25
10 Chinese rugs, 6x3 ft. .... at $47.50

Room-size SAROUKS now Half—or Less

12.4x8.7 ft. .... $425	12.2x8.6 ft. .... $550	11.8x8.5 ft. .... $550
11.10x8.6 ft. .... $450	11.1x8.4 ft. .... $550	12.4x8.4 ft. .... $550
11.4x8.7 ft. .... $475	12.1x8.9 ft. .... $550	12.5x9.2 ft. .... $625
12.1x9 ft. .... $550	11.10x8.6 ft. .... $550	12.8x9.2 ft. .... $750

Room-size CHINESE Rugs now Half

8.10x6 ft. .... $175	12.7x9 ft. .... $295	15x11 ft. .... $384
9.8x7.11 ft. .... $210	10x12 ft. .... $320	16x11 ft. .... $695
11.6x9 ft. .... $252	11.9x9 ft. .... $325	13.6x12 ft. .... $595
12.9 ft. .... $252	11.4x8.10 ft. .... $325	18x12 ft. .... $750
12.9 ft. .... $288	12.9 ft. .... $346	14.10x13.5 ft. .... $750
11.6x8.9 ft. .... $275	12x12 ft. .... $337	20x15 ft. .... $975 11.10x8.11 ft. .... $275

Third Gallery, New Bldg.

Interesting Early American Bedroom Furniture

AU QUATRIEME

The little American house, Au Quatrieme, has now been converted into a series of bedrooms furnished with fine American antiques. This arrangement has given an